Essential Instructions for Practice

A Poem Left by Dharma Master Dayu for His Eldest Daughter Yizhuang in 1940

Contents

Essential Instructions for Practice

Essential Instructions for Practice

In quiescence, illuminate; in illumination, remain quiescent. Above all, do not exert yourself forcefully.

To become a Buddha or a patriarch, there is no other secret.